

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An improved solitaire game having a plurality of game pieces. The game pieces have first, second, and third indicia formed thereon. The first, second, and third indicia are visible while playing the game by moving the game pieces on the game board. Each game piece may be fitted with one or more holes to receive pegs used to indicate the strategic status of each piece. The game may be played with or without a game board.

20061010090900T